Redemptive Relational Leadership

Presented by: Darryl Howard, Sabbath School Director, South Atlantic Conference

Sabbath School is an agent for Redemptive Transformational Leadership via the Pastor.

Sabbath School is servant leadership that:

- is Redeeming,
- is Transforming, and
- Reproduces itself

in the heart of the follower.

A transformational leader must be one who is transformed; one who has experienced the power of the transformational experience.

Role of Sabbath School

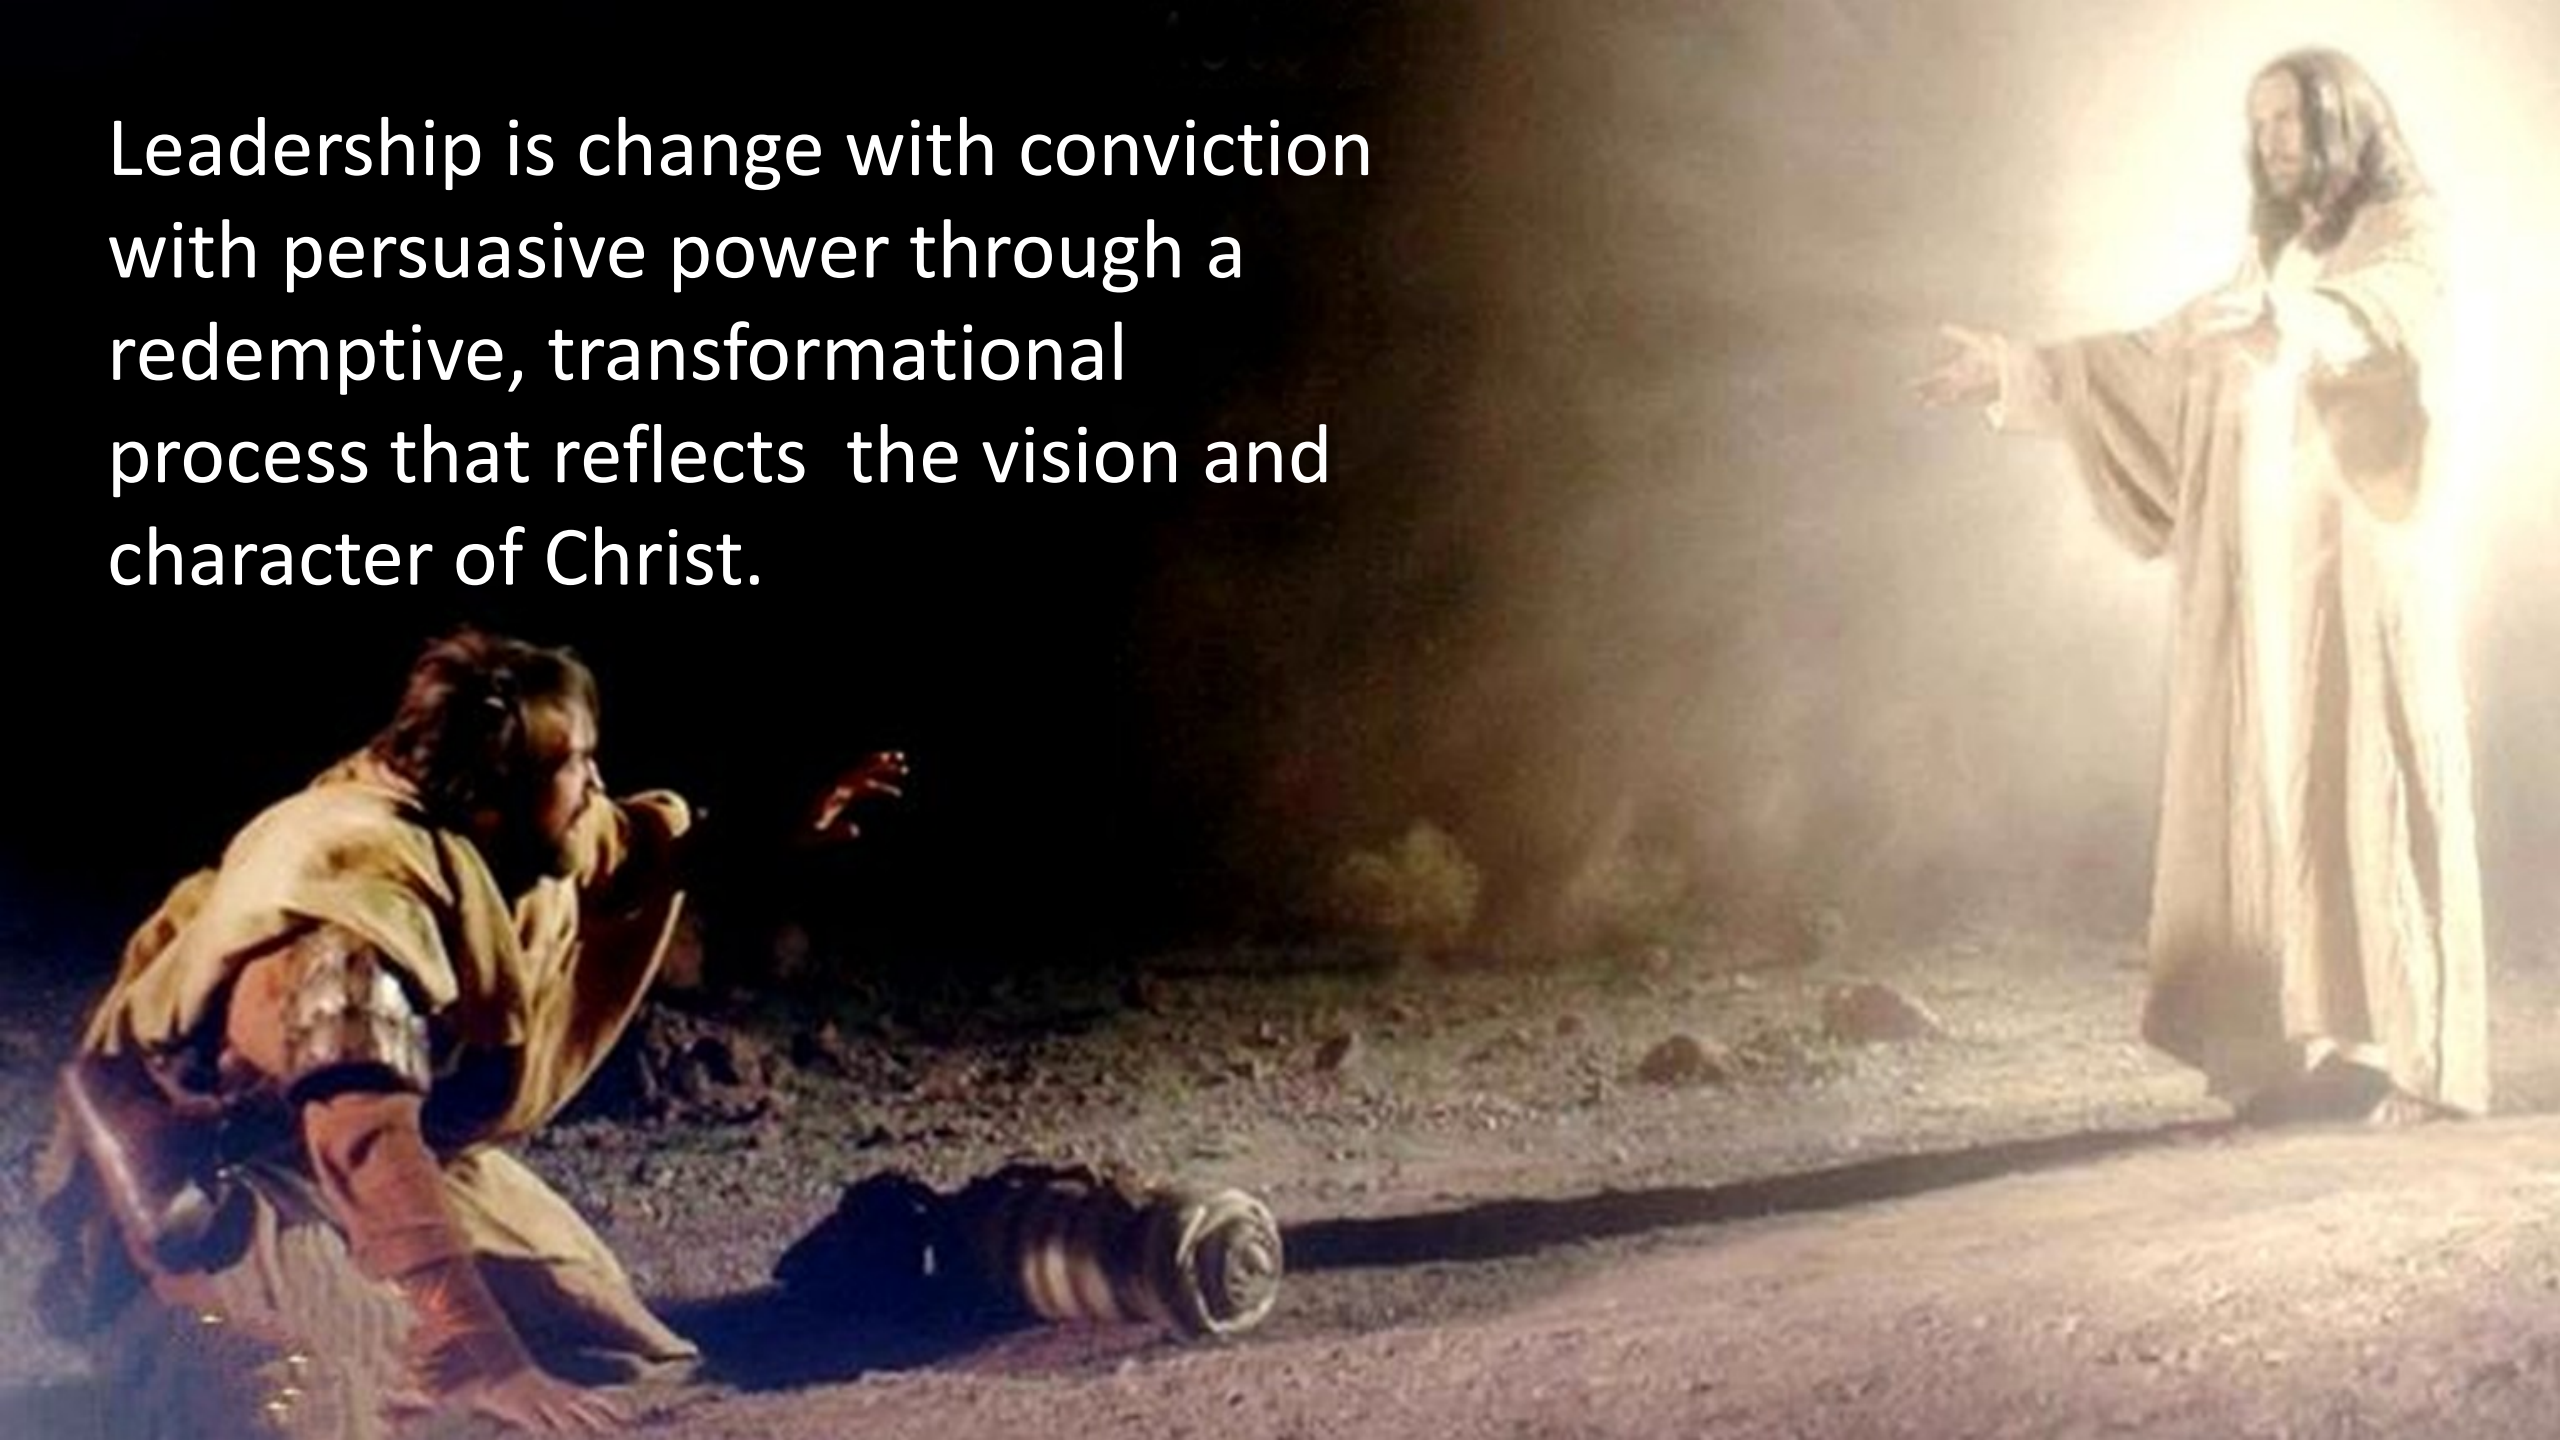
Theological Reflections - Acts 2:42-44

1. Devotion to Teaching
2. Fellowship
3. Prayer
4. Led by Holy Spirit
5. Visible Gifts
6. Leadership by Apostles (Pastors)
7. Spirit of Unity

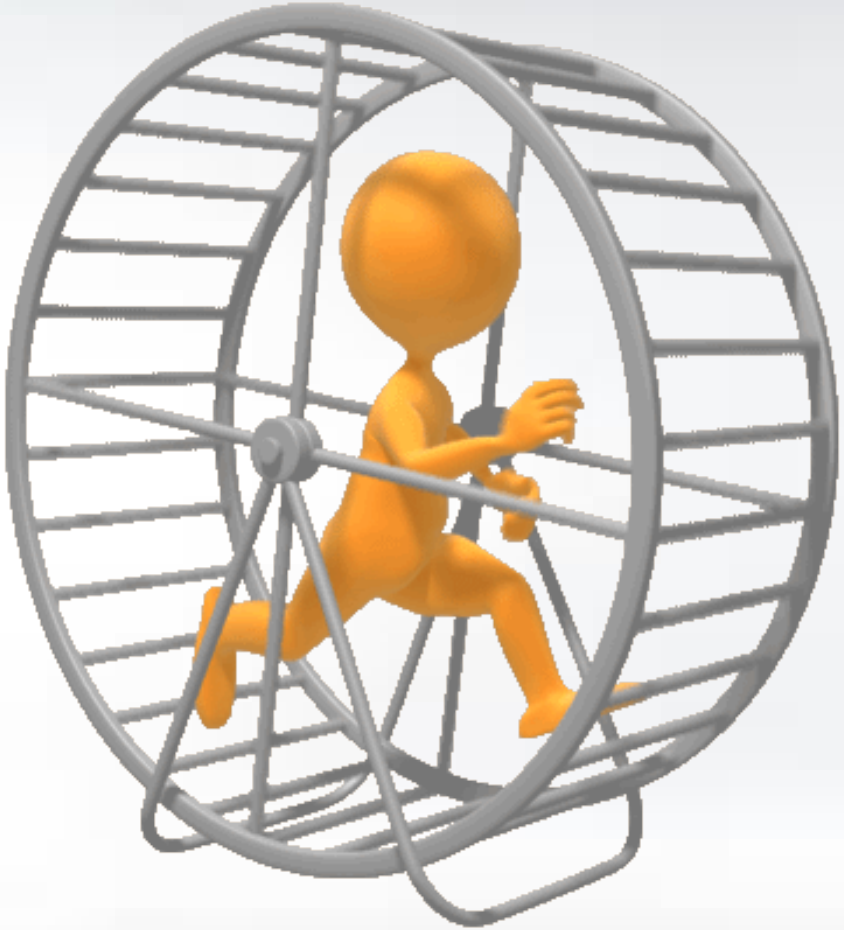
The experience can only flow through a redemptive process from a personal relationship with Christ.

One cannot move, encourage, impress others toward transformational change unless they have been transformed and experienced a redemptive relationship with Christ.

Leadership is change with conviction with persuasive power through a redemptive, transformational process that reflects the vision and character of Christ.



The Hamster Theology of Leadership



- I follow you because you follow me.
- Neither have a vision or process for change.

The absence of leadership is the emptiness of an un-redeeming transforming experience neutralized in the heart of the follower.

Relational nature of Jesus with the woman at the well.

John 4: 1-24

A. Christ assessed the relational need

B. Christ engages the woman

C. The woman's relational experience with Christ:

   a) Impacts her purpose

   b) Changes those around her
